Our Top Five January Maison et Objet

Posted on February 27, 2013 | Leave a comment

Once again we visited Maison et Objet this January, here is a list of our 5 favourite things from the show:

5. Richard Orlinski for Daum.

Richard Orlinski's "Born Wild" concept for Daum consists of 'Wild Kong' (pictured below) 'Wild Panther' and 'Wild Crocodile' each edition of 99 is available in blue, clear and black.

4. Mario Luca Giusti

Acrylic glasses of the highest quality. You can really see why their business has grown massively in the last couple of years.

3. Moser

Czech crystal company Moser have continued to create not only beautiful stem and barware but also stunning decorative pieces, Bubbles is no exception.

2. SUS Gallery

Japanese company SUS Gallery have created a strikingly innovative set of tumblers made from titanium. The double walled design means they act like a Thermos – but look so much better!

1. Forge de Laguiole

Steak knives with a difference. French company Forge de Laguiole produce the most stunning range of knives we have ever seen. We especially liked the modern interpretations from designers such as Philippe Starck, Jean-Michel Wilmotte and Andrée Putman
